Dear Mr Lewis,

RE: NEW EXECUTIVE OFFICE FURNITURE PARTNERS DESK & BOOKCASE

I refer to the above mentioned purchase that I made on ebay on the 15th April 2008.

I would like to point out that before purchasing the furniture from you, that I had spent many months visiting furniture stores and manufacturers to find a quality partners desk with return and a matching bookcase. My investigations revealed that there were no such products readily available and that the design of your furniture is both unique and innovative.

I am a professional that operates my business from a home office. I was after a high quality, yet functional product, that would suit this purpose. The prices quoted from other retailers/sellers were at least double the price and in some cases, triple. I should add, the competitor's furniture that I have seen has been of lower quality and finish, when compared to your furniture. The attention to detail in your furniture is of an exceptional quality.

In simple terms, your executive office furniture offers unbeatable value, the best possible quality at the best possible price.

Overall, without question, it has been an excellent investment for me, especially helping me maintain a professional image with my clients. I would not hesitate to unreservedly recommend your furniture, to any one that wants to achieve the same objective.

Yours sincerely,

David J Taranto
